The Certification conferred by International Management Consultants Certification Board (IMCB™) is designed to equip participants with the foundational skills of becoming a professionally recognized consultant. Understanding how to identify, manage stakeholders, analyze, map and define requirements for and during a consultancy project.

WHO IS THIS PROGRAM FOR?

Those who:

- Are already doing management consultancy work and want an internationally recognised certification.
- Want to pursue management consultancy as a second career.
- Want to become internal management consultants within their organisations, as part of their career progression.
- Want to drive mind set and attitudinal change in their workplace.
- Would like to help organisations move forward in their strategy.

WHAT WILL YOU LEARN?

The M.E.T.H.O.D. Consulting Cycle approach designed by our experts is central to attaining this management consultant certification. You will learn how to identify and manage stakeholders; analyze, map and define requirements for and during a consultancy project.

On completion of this program, you will be able to apply these skillsets to better understand an organization's vision, and help the organization identify and implement strategies effectively.

HOW WILL YOU LEARN?

The purpose of this certification is to provide our participants with a rigorous programme and methodology so that they have the ability to demonstrate the knowledge and skills to professional management consultancy standards.

The certification employs a practical hands-on approach and will include a comprehensive case study so that participants will be able to apply their learnings back in their actual consulting environments.

In addition to this, you will also receive extensive feedback through Group Coaching sessions and from our Certified Coaches.

WHY CHOOSE AN IMCB™ PROGRAMME?
